

MISSION:

To strengthen civil society partnership with GEF by enhancing participation, contributing to policy and stimulating action.

VISION:

A dynamic civil society influencing policies and actions at all levels to safeguard the global environment and promote sustainable development.

INTRODUCTION:

The GEF-CSO Network (formerly known as GEF-NGO) was established in May 1995 following the Global Environment Facility (GEF) Council's decision to enhance relationships between the GEF and Civil Society Organizations (CSO).

The Network is made up of CSOs whose work in environment and sustainable development is aligned with the GEF mandate. It has a global organizational structure with Regional Focal Points based in sixteen (16) different regions overseen by a Central Focal Point and a global Coordination Committee including representatives of indigenous peoples.

The Network currently links member organizations in all regions of the world. Its role is expanding from focusing mainly on input to GEF planning and policymaking to one of empowering the engagement of civil society in the implementation of GEF programs.

NETWORK FOCAL AREAS:

- Biodiversity
- Climate Change
- International Waters
- Land Degradation
- Ozone Depletion
- Persistent Organic Pollutants

OBJECTIVES

1. To enhance the role of civil society in safeguarding the global environment.
2. To strengthen GEF Program implementation through an enhanced partnership with civil society.

ACHIEVEMENTS:

Since 1996, the Network has organized consultations twice a year immediately prior to the GEF Council meetings and has also played a prominent role in regular GEF Assemblies.

The Network has contributed to policy formulation by GEF and advocated strong public participation in all stages of GEF program implementation. The Network has also been a conduit for feedback on both positive and negative aspects of GEF implementation and has compiled case studies of practical experiences and best practices in implementing GEF activities at the country and local levels.

The Network has successfully helped to enhance recognition of the importance of working with civil society to address global environment objectives.

STRATEGIES:

1. To enhance the role of civil society in safeguarding the global environment:

- Document and disseminate experience and best practice to address global environmental issues
- Support outreach and awareness on global environmental issues
- Encourage civil society contributions to convention negotiations and implementation
- Strengthen capacity of civil society to address global environmental issues

2. To strengthen GEF Program implementation through enhanced partnership with civil society:

- Promote GEF and its programs and activities to civil society
- Enhance civil society in GEF country, regional and global projects
- Support the effective access of civil society organizations to GEF resources
- Provide strategic input to GEF policy making, planning and reviews

3. To maintain and enhance the capacity of the GEF-CSO Network:

- Enhance the capacity of the Network
- Promote active membership
- Improve the Network communication and resource generation

MEMBERSHIP:

As of May 2014, there are more than 500 member organizations in the Network.

Benefits: by becoming members of the Network, organizations are able to:

- Receive updates on policies and activities of the GEF and the Network;
- Be notified of funding and capacity building opportunities, as well as upcoming meetings and events;
- Contribute to GEF policy and program development and review;
- Exchange experiences with other members of the Network and participate in GEF-CSO consultation meetings and GEF Assembly meetings.

Obligations: Members are expected to be actively involved and contribute to the work of the Network by:

- Sharing their knowledge and experiences with other members
- Contributing to the achievement of the Network objectives
- Participation in working groups or task forces

Non-profit, civil society organizations actively working on GEF-related issues can apply for membership (details are on the website).
